

Having a high old time in Shinfield

Sep 12 2002

Shinfield Players go up in the world this week when they stage Cole Porter's enduring musical classic High Society.

Featuring a host of Porter's classic songs, including True Love, Who Wants to be a Millionaire, You're Sensational and Did You Evah, it tells the story of a society wedding between the spoiled Tracy Lord and the manager of the family business, George Kittredge.

Tracy's ex, Dexter Haven, arrives on the scene to be greeted by Tracy's kid sister, Dinah, who is desperate to stop the wedding. Meanwhile, two lowlife journalists (cheek! - ed), Mike and Liz, have been sent to cover the wedding in return for suppressing an expose of the affairs of Tracy's father, Seth. Mike falls for Tracy, Tracy's Uncle Willie chases after Liz and Dexter and Dinah... well, you get the idea.

It's good fun stuff, suitable for the whole family, and it runs at Shinfield Players Theatre, Whitely Wood Lane, from Wednesday (September 18) until Saturday 21 at 7.45pm. Tickets are £7. Contact: 0118 926 7135.
